

- Name: Cory D. Wiegert
 - Current Position & Affiliation: Chief Executive Officer, CancerLinQ LLC & Executive Vice President, ASCO
 - Country: USA
-

- Professional Experience:

Chief Executive Officer, CancerLinQ LLC

He also managed the first effort to implement Watson technologies in an FDA-regulated quality management system. Prior to joining IBM, Mr. Wiegert was Vice President of Product Management at Sterling Commerce, where he led the end-to-end product strategy and lifecycle of their selling and fulfillment software suite. He also served at Siebel Systems, where he was responsible for the implementation and design of their sales force automation, call center, integration technology, and analytic solutions. Mr. Wiegert has also held positions with Centura Software Corporation and Safety-Kleen.

- Professional Organizations:

Executive Vice President, ASCO

Cory Wiegert is the Chief Executive Officer of CancerLinQ, LLC, and Executive Vice President of ASCO. He joined ASCO in 2018 and brings to his role extensive expertise in building and launching innovative technology solutions for healthcare. Mr. Wiegert previously served as Vice President of Product Management for IBM Watson Health, leading the successful launch of major projects, including IBM's first cloud-based offerings in healthcare.